V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims 1-11	YES
	Claims	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims 1-11	YES
	Claims	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-11	YES
	Claims	NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)Cited Prior Art Documents:

D1: US 5529202 A (SHAMIS) 25 June 1996

D2: US 4046282 A (RUCH) 6 September 1977

Novelty (N) and Inventive Step (IS): Claims 1-11

The invention of claim 1 relates to a thermoplastic can comprising a thermoplastic body with a disc like top moulded as one with said body and said disc including means to open the can; and a base member having an externally directed protrusion. The externally directed protrusion is adapted to engage a relatively thin walled recess in the radially internally facing lower peripheral portion of the body thereby effecting a permanent seal at the base of the container after filling thereof.

None of the individual prior art documents, taken singly or in combination, disclose all the features of the invention as defined in claim 1. Both the prior art documents disclose cans in which the sealing takes place at the top of the can, not the bottom, and is not of a permanent nature or with the same features as the invention disclosed in claim 1. Therefore, the invention as defined in claim 1 is novel and involves an inventive step over the prior art documents.

As claims 2-11 are dependent on claim 1, these claims also are novel and involve an inventive step.

Industrial Applicability (IA): Claims 1-11

The invention of claim 1, and dependent claims 2-11, has industrial applicability because the device can be made or used in the packaging industry.
